130 HEAD OF LIVESTOCK SHOWN AT FIRST ESTANCIA VALLEY FAIR

That the Estancia Valley Fair held last Thursday and Friday was a success from every view point is attested by the attendance, the variety of exhibits and large number of entries in every department. The ladies in charge of the Women's Department had every inch of space in their building covered with exhibits. The entries in this department would lead one to believe that he had stepped into an exhibit hall of an old established fair, rather than one in its infancy. The judges were given the time of their lives in making the awards.

In the Live Stock department, the corals were overcrowded, so that those in charge had their hands full in finding stall-room. There were one hundred and thirty entries in this department, including forty-eight horses, fifty-nine cattle, sixteen jacks and jennets and seven hogs. The grade of stuff shown throughout would have done justice to an old cattle country. A number of the exhibits shown were extra high grade stuff.

The farm and garden crops prove that crops of great value can be grown in endless variety. Grains, forage, garden truck, fruits, all were represented. Col. McIntosh's celery was enough to tempt any appetite, as was the cauliflower exhibited by several growers—whiter than the driven snow. To name the meritorious articles would use all our space. So we shall merely append the prize winners:

FAIR TO BE ANNUAL AFFAIR

The successful issue of the Estancia Valley Fair has inspired the people to make it a permanent affair. I. N. Shirley has offered to grant a tract of land adjoining the townsite for Fair Grounds, as long as it is used for that purpose. A subscription list has been started among the farmers and stockmen and five hundred dollars has been secured thus far, for the purpose of erecting buildings, etc. This amount will be increased to at least a thousand dollars and the Fair established on a permanent basis. With each one doing a little along this line the goal will soon be won.

Get your Vouchers

The vouchers for prizes won at the Fair have been made out by the Auditing Committee and are ready for the winners. Any who have not received the amounts due them, will please call on H. C. Williams and secure the vouchers which may be cashed at the bank as any check.

Sunday Services

Rev. N. W. Bard, recently appointed pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at this place has written that he will arrive with Mrs. Bard today and conduct services at the regular hours, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Sam Hunter, cattle dealer of Willard, was an Estancia visitor Monday.

Reymundo Romero and son, Cleofes Romero and Ben Donlin formed a motor party which left for the State Fair this morning.
Mrs. Rhoda Evans, B. L. Hues and daughter Pauline drove to Albuquerque to take in the Fair. They will bring back a load of fruit.
Mrs. Wheeler and children, who have been visiting the family of James Walker, left last Thursday for their Texas home. Mrs. Wheeler is a sister of Mr. Walker.
J. W. Wagner's driving pony was disabled in an accident last Saturday. Miss Lula had driven home and the pony, being full of life, started to run. One of the boys grabbed for the lines, but caught only one, thus circling the horse and upsetting the rig. The shafts were broken, and in kicking to free himself, the horse cut the leader of one hind foot on an iron on the shaft. It is doubtful if the horse will ever regain the use of the foot.
